The Senior class of Tripp Academy will repeat their "Living Magazine" at Frisbee's Hall Kittery Point next Tuesday evening. Those who were fortunate enough to see this bright little bit last Friday night could do worse than witness it again, while those who were not spectators at the first presentation will have opportunity to square themselves for their absence. Dancing, with music by Horace Rowe, will follow the entertainment.

The next in the series of entertainments at the Second Methodist Methodist church, to be held on the evening of Nov. 23, will have for its principal feature the work of Fred E. Kendall, baritone, humorist and impersonator.

During the last month an unusually large number of coasting vessels have sought shelter from storms in the lower harbor.

An interesting race may be looked for between the four masted schooners George E. Walcott, Capt. G. W. Burke, and Alice M. Colburn, Capt. W. Wendell, which are ready to leave this morning for Hampton Roads. The vessels are of equal size.

A stereopticon reproduction of the Passion Play, containing representations in the life of Christ, was given before a good sized audience at the Second Christian church Wednesday evening. Some seventy pictures were shown. The entertainment was conducted by Rev. C. J. Yeomans of York, who lectures in connection with the slides displayed.

The Aid Association connected with York Rebekah Lodge No. 3 met on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Frank W. Call of Love Lane.

LLOYD H. CHANDLER PROMOTED

New Hampshire Man Now Commander in United States Navy

Washington, Nov. 18.—The commissioning of Lloyd H. Chandler of New Hampshire as commander in the navy was announced in the navy orders last night.

Lloyd Horwitz Chandler, commander, U. S. navy, was born in Washington, D. C., Aug. 17, 1863, the third son of William Eaton Chandler, formerly secretary of the navy, and United States senator from New Hampshire. He was appointed from New Hampshire to the United States Naval Academy, entering Sept. 4, 1884, and being graduated in June, 1888. He served as a naval cadet on board the U. S. S. Boston, was commissioned ensign, July 1, 1890; promoted to lieutenant, junior grade, April 8, 1893; to lieutenant, March 3, 1899; to lieutenant commander, July 1, 1905, and to commander on October 17, 1909.

His service has been as follows: U. S. Training Ship Portsmouth, 1890-1892; U. S. S. Concord, 1892-1893; U. S. Coast Survey Schooner Eagle, surveying Boston and Salem harbors, 1893-1894; Naval Academy, 1894-1895; U. S. S. Marblehead, 1896; U. S. S. Minneapolis, 1896-1897; U. S. S.

San Francisco, 1897-1898; became secretary to Commodore John A. Howell, U. S. N., commander in chief of European station and afterwards of the Northern Patrol Squadron and Havana Blockade, U. S. S. San Francisco, flagship, during the Spanish-American War; inspector of ordnance and equipment at Bath Iron Works, 1898-1899; U. S. Torpedo Boat Mackenzie, as executive and later as commanding officer, 1899; executive officer of U. S. S. Scorpion, 1899; Bureau of Ordnance, in charge of torpedo and mine work, 1899-1900-1901; with summer aboard U. S. S. Massachusetts, in 1900; commanded U. S. S. Bailey, 1901; commanded reserve torpedo flotilla at Port Royal, S. C., consisting of Bailey, Bagley, Barney, Bidle, Shubrick, Stockton, Thornton, Wilkes, 1902-1903; commanded First Torpedo Flotilla consisting of Decatur, Dale, Bainbridge, Barry, Chauncey, 1903-1904, and took it from Hampton Roads to Manila by the Suez Canal, in the winter of 1903-1904; assistant to Naval Attache at Tokyo, Japan, from May to August, 1904; Bureau of Ordnance, on torpedo and mine work, Jan. 21, 1905 to June, 1906; U. S. S. Connecticut, as navigator and executive, June, 1906, to August, 1907; and (secretary) from August, 1907, to May, 1908, on staff of Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, U. S. N., Commander in Chief of U. S. Atlantic Fleet, U. S. S. Connecticut, flagship, during voyage of fleet around South America, detached from staff and from U. S. S. Connecticut, May 9, 1908; Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, in charge of movements of and repairs to ships, up to present date; during summer of 1909, member of Swift Board on naval reorganization.

On December 14, 1893, he married Agatha Buford Edson, only daughter of the late Major Theodore Edson, of the Ordnance Corps of the United States Army. They have two children, a son, Theodore Edson Chandler, born in Annapolis, Md., December 26, 1894; and a daughter, Susan Buford Chandler, born at Washington, D. C., on December 12, 1906.

HANSON THREW DRYDEN

The finest exhibition of wrestling that could be witnessed in many days' travel, came off at Music Hall this morning as a result of the match of Wednesday evening.

W. E. Dryden, a husky young man from Newington, who is known in sporting circles at his native place in Scotland, issued a challenge to Fritz Hanson, the winner over Ben Charlesworth of the navy and those who had the pleasure of looking on certainly seen the best contest in years.

Dryden, who has not trained in months, surprised everybody. There was $100 a side, Dryden was to floor Hanson twice in an hour and Hanson was to put him flat on the mat once. Hanson started off by flooring his man and from start to finish was on top but Dryden kept him at work all the time.

Hanson having the science pulled himself out of many tight places. After fifteen minutes Hanson worked the scissor's grasp and the Scotchman's shoulders were flush with the mat.

Hanson, a man that has followed this work for years, admitted that Dryden was the best man he had ever been up against in a catch as catch can match.

The Scotchman will now get in the proper training and wherever he appears the people are sure of looking at a wonderful man.

CAR JUMPS OFF BRIDGE

Two Injured in Accident at Spruce Creek

Kittery Point, Me., Nov. 18.—Two men were injured about twenty minutes past seven o'clock this morning when Atlantic Shore Line passenger car No. 6 jumped the rail on Spruce Creek bridge, crashed through the railing and plunged into the salt water.

The car left the Portsmouth ferry landing on Badger's island at seven o'clock. When it reached the bridge it luckily happened that only three people were on board, Motorman William Littlefield, Conductor Ray H. Fuller and Roadmaster Pascal M. Brann.

Motorman Littlefield jumped and fortunately escaped with little in the way of injuries.

Conductor Fuller went into the water with the car, and besides a cold ducking, sustained a bad fracture of the ankle and a number of bruises.

Mr. Brann was badly cut about the face, head and hands and was also considerably bruised.

The car, which was formerly known as No. 12 was a four wheeler, and had been extensively remodeled.

On its trip to the ferry landing the car carried a heavy load of passengers. Traffic is usually light on the return to Sea Point and this occasion was one of those uncommon ones when nobody rides on that part of the trip.

The car lies in the creek at an angle, partially on top and side, with the top crushed in to the seats. At high tide it will be totally submerged. It is broken up so badly that the water about there was littered with splintered fragments for some hours after the wreck.

The escape of Conductor Fuller is considered marvelous, as he was in the car counting fares when the crash came. How it happened that he was not pinned in the wreckage, and was able in his crippled condition to climb out, are things that are pretty difficult to explain.

Mr. Brann was lying on the rear platform. He had had the car stopped on the hill going down to the bridge, in order to take on some tools. Following that stop, the car had slowly rounded the curve, and was on the straight track when it jumped the iron. The men state that the car had not speeded up after reaching the straight track; they have no knowledge of anything to indicate an obstruction on the track, and are totally at a loss to account for the accident.

RAILROAD TAXATION

The Present Situation in New Hampshire

The Concord Monitor publishes the following brief resume of the railroad taxation question in this state: "The Concord Reporter, referring to the petition of the Boston and Maine railroad for a reduction and abatement of taxes recently assessed against it by the board of equalization, says, 'Whatever the result of this may be in regard to an abatement of the taxes assessed, it will probably bring out a mass of facts and evidence in regard to the taxation and valuation of other property in this state which will work a radical change. In the case of farm property there are scores of instances where the timber on a farm has been sold for more than the whole farm has been assessed for, and in some cases double the amount. Other classes of property in many towns have not been taxed at half the cash value, and some towns have made it a rule to undervalue all property on account of the state and county taxes which are based on the valuation as returned by the selectmen. If the corporations do not get the abatement asked for, it will probably bring about a demand that there shall be fewer cases of the under valuation of other property.'

All of these facts are now published in the report of the tax commission appointed by Governor Floyd. They were before the last legislature. They have been published in the newspapers. No one has yet arisen to dispute their accuracy. Nothing was done by the last legislature to correct or remedy this condition of affairs. There is nothing to indicate that any change has taken place in the local assessments this year. To make their state tax as small as possible, the selectmen of towns and assessors of cities persistently undervalue property for purposes of taxation. This is the charge of the tax commission in their report and it is not denied. A reexamination will only confirm and emphasize the tax commission's report of these facts.

On page 22 of the first volume of the report of the tax commissioners, they summarize as follows, 'It appears that ordinary real estate is assessed at about 70 per cent. of full value; timberland, when assessed, at about 30 per cent.; stocks in trade of merchants at about 55 per cent.; livestock, 55 per cent.; industrial and mercantile corporations, 24 per cent.; while not one-tenth of the money and securities is taxed at all, and large values in timber escape as well and all this comes about because assessors do not intend to appraise at full value, do not inform themselves as to values, and do not personally examine property yearly as the statute provides."

The railroad in the trial of its case will undoubtedly submit the tax commission's report in evidence, calling the commissioners as witnesses to confirm it. As the petition of the railroad is based upon the facts as they exist this year, evidence of conditions now prevailing will be required by the court. Masters to take testimony will probably be appointed by the court. If this plan is adopted by that tribunal, what better can they do than to appoint the surviving members of the tax commission, Messrs. Fellows and Morrill, to gather this information? They have been over the ground once, are familiar with the work and could make a report in less time than new men.

It is important that this question be decided at an early date. It is unfortunate, however, that it does not involve the larger question of the taxing power under the constitution of the legislature. The last general court failed more in not securing from the supreme court an interpretation of its own powers of taxation under the constitution than it did in not providing remedies for existing conditions. We must probably await the assembling of a new legislature to secure this interpretation. In the meantime, anything that will throw judicial light upon this subject of taxation will contribute to the understanding of the voters both in determining what questions they desire decided by the next legislature and their action in the calling of a constitutional convention.

Theatrical Topics of the Day.

MUSIC HALL.

Big Feature Act, Buster Brown Troupe.

The vaudeville at Music Hall on Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons and evenings includes "The Buster Brown Troupe," who will present a playlet called, "The Boy and the Burglar."

"The Boy and the Burglar" is a dainty little comedy in three scenes introducing as characters a police-floor back," which is crowding the Maxine Elliott Theatre, New York.

Robert Edson has begun his tour in "The Noble Spaniard," W. Somerset Maugham's farce. He is accompanied by the original New York cast, which includes Gertrude Coghlan and Verner Clarges. Mr. Edson's appearance in the far west in his present vehicle will be the first time he has made such an extensive tour since he played the football hero in "Strongheart."

According to an announcement

BUSTER BROWN, AT MUSIC HALL THE REST OF THIS WEEK.

man, a nursery maid, a burglar, a mischievous boy and his constant and faithful companion, the dog Tige.

Buster Brown and his live dog Tige has appeared in all the large cities from Maine to California delighting thousands of people, old and young.

Footlight Flashes

"The Sign of the Cross" in which George Behan is appearing in vaudeville, is to be extended into a three-act play next season. The general idea will be retained and will form the groundwork for the second act of the three-act drama.

"The Jolly Bachelors," Lew Fields recent production, closed its road tour Saturday night and has been called back to New York for repairs. The cast was a strong one and the scenery very elaborate. Mr. Fields will have the piece rewritten.

Wagshal & Ziemer produced "Seven Days" for the first time last week Wednesday night in New York and another success is reported. It is said to be very funny, although depending upon a small scare for its humor.

Word comes from Toledo that Adele Ritchie, prima donna of "The Motor Girl" company, has been suffering from an attack of tonsillitis and may be obliged to retire from the cast. Miss Ritchie succeeded Eugenia Caine after that young woman succumbed to a similar affliction.

Fritz Scheff, owing to serious throat trouble, was unable to fill his dates in the south last week, and will probably be laid up for at least a fortnight. Miss Wilton, her understudy, sang the chief role in "The Prima Donna" at Atlanta with success.

Elsie Ferguson's first stellar farce will begin November 22, when she will take "Such a Little Queen" from the Hackett Street theatre, New York to the Chestnut street theatre, Philadelphia. Channing Pollock's whimsical comedy will then have had something more than a hundred nights in New York.

"Silver Threads," Richard Jones' new play, by Martin V. Macie, author of "The Light Eternal," is now in rehearsal, under the direction of William Robert Daly, at the Majestic Theatre, New York. "Silver Threads" is written around the story in the song, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," with which Mr. Jones has long been identified.

It is extremely unlikely that the generally expressed desire for Forbes Robertson's revival of "Hamlet" can be consummated during his present visit owing to the absence of his scenery and costumes and his success in "The Passing of the Third made last week in New York. Frank Daniels will thereafter confine his efforts to the Americanization of London musical plays, a decision based upon his appearance in "The Belles of Brittany." Mr. Daniels says he will go to England at the end of each season to select pieces suitable for his own use in this country, and will undertake their revision for American audiences.

KIDNEYS ACT FINE AND BACKACHE GOES

A Few Doses Regulate the Kidneys and End Bladder Misery

If you take several doses of Pape's Diuretic, all backache and distress from out-of-order kidneys or bladder trouble will vanish, and you will feel fine.

Lame back, painful stitches, rheumatism, nervous headache, dizziness, irritability, sleeplessness, inflamed or swollen eyelids, worn-out, sick feeling and other symptoms of sluggish, inactive kidneys disappear.

Uncontrollable, smarting, frequent urination (especially at night) and all bladder misery ends.

Feeling miserable and worried is needless, because this unusual preparation goes at once to the disordered kidneys, bladders urinary system and distributes its healing, cleansing and vitalizing influence directly upon the organs and glands affected, and completes the cure before you realize it.

The moment you suspect any kidney or urinary disorder or feel rheumatism pains, begin taking this harmless medicine with the knowledge that there is no other remedy at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure as a fifty-cent treatment of Pape's Diuretic, which any druggist can supply.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pape's Diuretic, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Only curative results can come from taking Pape's Diuretic, and a few days' treatment means clean, active, healthy kidneys, bladder and urinary organs—and no backache.

The delegation from this city to the Yale and Harvard game will be small owing to their inability to get seats.

Ward Two Republicans Select Ticket

At the meeting of the Republican Ward Committee of ward two on Wednesday evening there was a large attendance of the members and the meeting was presided over by Chairman Harry B. Yeaton.

The committee voted to present the names of Charles E. Trafton, as Councilman from the ward, and Charles E. Bailey as Councilman at large.

The committee also discussed plans for the coming election and the new Board of Public Works bill was explained.

Ward Three.

At the Republican Ward Committee in ward three, Wednesday evening, John Hallahan was selected to be nominated for ward councilman. The ward will not present the name of any councilman at large.

MRS. STETSON'S ATONEMENT

Will Quit as Trustee of the New York Church

ALSO FORFEITS SALARY

Had Continued to Receive $5000 a Year Since She Ceased to Be First Reader—Slips Away From Boston as Soon as Hearing Is Completed—Way Cleared For Return of Harmony Among Christian Scientists

New York, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, the Christian Science leader of this city who was on trial in Boston, arrived in this city last night.

She brought tidings to her followers that she intended to resign her office of trustee of the New York church and also to forfeit the salary of $5000 per year which the church has continued to pay her since she ceased to be first reader.

Virgil O. Strickler, a leader in the opposition to Mrs. Stetson, is the present first reader of the church. The continuance of the salary was practically a gift to Mrs. Stetson.

These concessions on the part of Mrs. Stetson are regarded by her followers as the extent of the atonement that she will be called upon to make by the directors of the mother church.

The latter are expected to issue a statement today as to their finding on the charges against Mrs. Stetson.

Mrs. Stetson slipped away from the Christian Science temple in Boston shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She was taken in an automobile to the Hotel Touraine. There she made hurried preparations for the return trip to New York.

Accompanied by Ella Dunn, her maid, the New York leader boarded the 5 o'clock express. She declared that she had nothing to say on the situation at this time.

The impression has prevailed among Christian Scientists that the hearing would end satisfactorily to the church as a body. It was pointed out that Mrs. Stetson had many times, and particularly in her latest troubles, reaffirmed her love for Mrs. Eddy and her strict adherence to the faith and would be ready to bow to the supreme will in every matter of discipline to prevent any serious disturbance in the church.

The way in which the great New York meeting of Monday accepted Mrs. Eddy's will and renewed expressions of loyalty to her was potent proof to Scientists that any idea of an independent movement in the church was effectively nipped in the bud.

Mrs. Stetson's statement, it is declared, completely changes the situation in New York, removing all opposition which has existed to the authority of the mother church directors, and thus clearing the way for the return of the harmony that existed before the latest trouble over Mrs. Stetson.

ANSWER ONLY ONE CALL

Religious Biddies Refuse to Respond to Anything but a Hymn
Harwich, Mass., Nov. 18.—Mrs. Josephine Berry, a widow, living on her small farm in North Harwich, has a flock of what are known as "religious fowl," and which answer to only one call.

When Mrs. Berry wishes to feed her flock, it is reported, she gathers them together by singing or whistling a familiar hymn, "Come Ye Sinners Poor and Needy," and every bird on the place comes running.

Neighbors confirm the fact that from small chicks the fowl have been called in this way and that they refuse to answer to the general call which brings other flocks to their feeding places.

ARGUED OVER LYNCHING

Negro of Cairo, Ill., Takes Life of a Discharged Negro Soldier
Cairo, Ill., Nov. 18.—Henry Small, a negro, shot and killed William Pope, one of the negro soldiers discharged from the United States army after the "shooting up" at Brownsville, Tex.

The shooting followed an argument over the lynching here last week of Will James, the negro accused of the murder of Annie Polley.

Pope was well liked by the negroes here and there is considerable feeling against Small, who was arrested.

Brown Gets Life Sentence
Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 18.—John W. Brown, a negro, of Cambridge, was sentenced in court here to life imprisonment. He killed Laura Bland, a negro, at Newton. Upon being indicted Brown pleaded not guilty, but he changed his plea to guilty.

BABIES KILLED BY MILK

Condensed Lactal Sold to Have Been Infected With Bacteria
Providence, Nov. 18.—Condensed milk, which was infected with bacteria enough to kill half a dozen grown persons, is declared by the health authorities to have been the cause of death of twenty-two infants to the Myrtle Baby Home, East Providence, since June 17.

The large number of deaths caused Dr. Calcutt, overseer of the poor of that town, to notify Dr. Swarts, secretary of the board of health, and the latter investigated the case at once. He took a can of the condensed milk used there and found 100,000 bacteria in it.

The Myrtle Baby Home is conducted by the Light House Mission, of which Rev. A. H. Tourtellotte is command-in-chief. It is chartered under state laws and is a charitable institution, the principal business being to furnish homes to children who have no parents.

AN ENORMOUS CARGO

Cymric Sails From Boston With Ten Thousand Tons Dead Weight

Boston, Nov. 18.—In the history of the port of Boston there have been few such outward cargoes as that carried by the White Star liner Cymric, bound for Liverpool. Her merchandise amounting to 10,000 tons dead weight and 16,500 tons measurement, and her enormous cargo space was all utilized.

When she backed into the stream and headed seaward she was drawing 30 feet forward, 34.4 aft, or a mean draft of 32.2 feet, so that in threading her way down the channel she did not have much room to spare between her keel and the channel bed, notwithstanding that she left port at flood tide.

Two other ships which took out record-breaking cargoes were the Allen liner Numidian for Glasgow and the Hamburg-American liner Bosnia for Hamburg.

POISON IS FOUND IN BODIES OF TWO

Were Exhumed to Seek Evidence of Alleged Murder

Somerville, Mass., Nov. 18.—Arsenic was found by Professor Whitney in the stomachs of Stephen Kellier and Bridget Knowles of Somerville, whose bodies were exhumed last September. The fact came out here yesterday.

The former was the husband and the latter the sister of Mrs. Mary Kellier, who is now in jail under an indictment charging her with murder. There were life insurance policies aggregating $3500 on the lives of Bridget Knowles and Stephen Kellier, $1000 upon the former, and $2500 upon the latter.

Mrs. Mary Kellier collected these sums, and they were the largest amounts of insurance upon the members of the Kellier family which were collected by the woman under indictment.

After Whitney had found that there was evidence of arsenic in the bodies of Annie T. Kellier, sister-in-law, and Mary, aged 2; Katherine M., aged 12, and William, aged 9, all children of Mary Kellier, and upon which evidence the indictment charging her with murder of all four was brought about, the bodies of Stephen Kellier and Bridget Knowles were exhumed.

ENTICING CANAL HANDS

President Taft to Make Action of Certain Contractors a Misdemeanor
Washington, Nov. 18.—Prompt action will be taken by President Taft to prevent contractors engaged in building railroads in South America from enticing laborers away from Panama.

Last month these contractors succeeded in inducing about a thousand laborers to leave the canal zone to embark in their own enterprises. President Taft will shortly issue an executive order making the enticement of these laborers a misdemeanor.

Dies on Hundredth Birthday
Richmond, Ind., Nov. 18.—At the close of a big celebration in honor of the 100th anniversary of his birth, John Medaris of Greens Fork died. Medaris all but collapsed earlier in the day, but by grim determination lived until the birthday party was over.

Ex-Pastor Accused of Embezzlement
Dover, N. H., Nov. 18.—Malcolm C. MacLennan, formerly a Presbyterian clergyman, and later the Halifax manager of an insurance company, was arrested here, charged with the embezzlement of $3000 of the company's funds.

New Pennsylvania Tunnels Opened
New York, Nov. 18.—The four Pennsylvania railroad tunnels from Bergen, N. J., to Long Island City, under both rivers and through Manhattan, are completed and the first train was run through today.

Three Men Freeze in Blizzard
Leadville, Col., Nov. 18.—The bodies of Frank Loftus, William Hagerty and James Hayes, all of Leadville, were found on the line between Clark and Lake counties. They were frozen to death in a blizzard.

MINE INTERIOR STILL BLAZING

Three Hundred or More Bodies Remain Entombed

TROOPS ON GUARD DUTY

No Definite Plans Reached For Extinguishing Fire or Entering Mine—Deadly Gases Would Prove Fatal to Anyone Making the Attempt—Temperature of 107 Degrees Recorded at Bottom of the Ill-Fated Shaft

Cherry, Ills., Nov. 18.—The St. Paul coal mine, in which are still entombed the corpses of 300 or more miners as a result of last Saturday's fire, has refused to give up its dead. Utter failure to devise any satisfactory method of recovering the bodies has left the situation the same as it was before.

The interior of the mine is burning almost as fiercely as ever. The partial opening of the seal over the mouth of the hoisting shaft yesterday allowed puffs of smoke to escape, showing the fury of the internal combustion.

While two companies of state troops were present to prevent possible disorder, they remained idle except for guard duty about the mine.

At a conference of federal, state and local mining experts it was agreed after five hours of deliberation that no immediate descent could be made into the gas and heat filled mine without risk to those who made the attempt. No definite plans were reached for extinguishing the fire or for entering the mine.

To allay the anxiety of survivors and relatives and to satisfy general craving for news of conditions in the mine, those in charge of the work allowed spectators to gather near the shaft. Details of what was done were publicly announced through a megaphone.

When Mining Engineer Rice lowered a thermometer through a hole in the shaft, 300 feet to the bottom of the shaft, the announcer shouted to the crowd:

"One hundred and seven degrees at the bottom."

"That's not bad," cried voices. The onlookers began to try to convince each other that an attempt to enter the mine would now be made. But the announcer explained to the crowd that owing to the deadly gases the mine could not be entered until the fire was out.

FOR AN OUNCE OF OPIUM

Young Girls Are Bartered by the Natives of Sarangani Islands

Manila, Nov. 18.—The natives of Sarangani, a group of islands to the south of Mindanao, are offering in barter young girls, each for one ounce of opium, according to W. S. Lyon, a horticulturalist, who has just returned from a trip through the south coast of Mindanao.

Lyon is engaged in securing specimens of tropical fruits for the department of agriculture at Washington. The horticulturalist reports that there is considerable traffic in opium in South Mindanao carried on by way of Palm Island. The government enters visit that district occasionally, but they are lacking in number and facility to suppress the traffic.

TO BUILD SEVEN WAR CRAFT

Canada's Plans For Navy Involve Enormous Outlay of Money

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—Canada's naval plans were laid before parliament yesterday. They provide for the construction of three cruisers of the "improved Bristol" class and four destroyers of the improved River class. The cost of the cruisers is estimated at $5,750,000 and the cost of the destroyers at $1,500,000. The annual cost of maintenance is estimated at $2,000,000.

It is estimated that 1408 officers and men will be required to man the ships and that the payroll will be $460,000 and the victualing $100,000 a year.

EARLY SNOW ON MARS

Two Patches Recently Observed on Antarctic Portion of Planet

Flagstaff, Ariz., Nov. 18.—Director Lowell of the Lowell observatory reports the first apparent Antarctic snowfall of the season on Mars. A patch was seen on Nov. 12, and increased in size on the 10th. A second patch was observed for the first time on the latter date.

This is said to be exceptionally early for the first Martian Antarctic snow. The second is where a patch, in melting last August, lingered beyond the rest of the polar cap.

King Manuel London's Guest
London, Nov. 18.—King Manuel of Portugal has arrived in London as the guest of the city corporation. The populace gave him an enthusiastic welcome. The king drove to the Guildhall, where he was the guest of honor at luncheon.

Runaway Kills Coachman
Newport, R. I., Nov. 18.—In a runaway here Michael Fitzpatrick, coachman for Joseph A. Swan, was killed. Swan was thrown from his carriage and badly bruised.

WILL MOVE TO NICARAGUA

How Sioux Indians Hope to Save Remnants of Historic Tribe

Boston, Nov. 18.—In a final effort to save his once renowned tribe from utter extinction, Chief Little Blount, a full-blooded Sioux, sailed from Boston on the steamer Esparita for Nicaragua, to make preparations for the reception of his followers early in the year, when, bag and baggage, the whole tribe expects to migrate to the tropics.

He will receive grants upon his arrival for 16,000 acres of the best government land in the Central American republic, and there expects to reorganize his people and successfully combat the fearful death rate which in less than half a century has reduced his people from a strong nation to a mere handful of wretched individuals.

The movement was started by the American Geographical society. The project is being financed by several wealthy New York people, who are interested in preserving the remnants of the historic tribe. The expenses will amount well above $100,000.

IF BUDGET IS REJECTED

Liberals Inclined to Think That Premier Asquith Will Resign

London, Nov. 18.—Walter Runciman, president of the board of education, speaking at Hull last night, made the announcement in behalf of the government that it would refuse to entertain any negotiations or compromise with the peers over the budget.

Beyond this announcement all is conjecture regarding the development of the political situation. Some prominent Liberals are still of the opinion that Premier Asquith will resign on the rejection of the budget.

Others believe that he will ask the king to create a large body of Liberal peers, recalling that the Irish church disestablishment bill was allowed to pass the lords on Gladstone's threat to create new peers.

LURTON NOT LIKELY TO BE APPOINTED

Gossip Connects Names of Others With Supreme Bench

Washington, Nov. 18.—Three stories relating to the vacancy on the supreme bench are current here. One is that the president has made up his mind to appoint Frederick N. Johnson of St. Louis; a second is that Charles E. Hughes, governor of New York, is to get the place, and a third is that no decision has yet been reached and that the appointment will not be made until after congress meets. Apparently the last story has more backing than either of the others.

HORACE H. LURTON

The friends of Judge Lurton of Tennessee are still hopeful that Lurton will be called to the place, but for several days intimations have come from reliable sources that the chances of the Tennessean are not as good as they were two or three weeks ago.

COLOR LINE IN IOWA

Supreme Court Says Private Concern Can Refuse to Serve Negro

Des Moines, Nov. 18.—The Iowa supreme court handed down a decision holding that a private business concern, under the Iowa statute, can legally refuse to serve a negro.

Mrs. Susie Brown, a negro, sued the J. H. Bell Coffee company for $1000 damages because she was refused a cup of coffee at a pure food show in Des Moines.

Eight Years For Knife Attack
Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 18.—Gaetano Corbelli, 21 years old, an Italian, was found guilty of the attempted murder of Pasquale Dabiana, at Newton. He was sentenced to from eight to ten years. Dabiana awoke from his sleep to find three boys standing by his bed with stilettos. The others escaped.

Snowstorm Sweeping Germany
Berlin, Nov. 18.—Germany is fast becoming snowbound by a great snowstorm that is sweeping over the whole country. Nearly all the telegraph and telephone wires are down.

CHOICE MISCELLANY

How the Wrights Got Money.

At one time the aeroplane experiments of the Wright brothers seemed doomed to failure because of a lack of funds. After having made many experiments on a small scale a stage was reached when money was absolutely necessary for their continuance. But how to obtain it was the problem.

The Wrights' father was a retired minister who lived then on a farm. The boys took him into their confidence and explained the exact state of affairs. Unhesitatingly he sold his farm, which was his only means of support, and gave the money it brought to his sons for use in their undertakings. If the machine on which the brothers were then working proved a failure it meant ruin for the aged clergyman and his family. But the boys held out their funds well and were enabled to start modeling on a larger and more practicable scale. Even at this juncture the aviators were not clear of difficulties. More money was wanted.

This time it was their sister, Miss Katherine Wright, who came to the rescue. Without a demur she handed over to her brothers, and the protests and plying commiseration of her friends, all the laboriously hoarded money she had earned as a school teacher.—Chicago News.

Knights of the Garter.

The installation of King Manuel as a Knight of the Garter will make him the fourteenth of foreign monarchs to hold an order which is said to "rank diplomatically as the first in the world."

Knights of the Garter are numerous enough to be divided among themselves into five groups.

The king belongs to and indeed constitutes by himself the first group. The queen has been made a lady of the Garter—the only one.

Then there are the crowned heads of Europe; next, a group of royalties whom it may not be disrespectful to call of miscellaneous composition, headed by the Prince of Wales, who is, so to speak, an ex officio Knight of the Garter; and, lastly, the twenty-five knight companions, taken from the higher ranks of the peerage.

Among the thirteen rulers is the mikado of Japan, the only Asiatic sovereign in a list from which the late ruler of Turkey was notably absent and in which the queen of Holland, doubtless because she is a woman, has not been included.—London Tit-Bits.

Checks For Sums In Cents.

The treasury has thought it worth while to make a formal statement to correct the impression that there is something new or oppressive in the law against the use of bank checks for less than $1 as money. The impression had gone abroad that it was recently made unlawful to draw checks for sums in cents and that the law would take effect with the penal code on Jan. 1, 1910. The fact is that the penal code merely re-enacts a law for seven years old. It has no reference to the issuing of small checks of any particular sum. What is forbidden is not the issuance of the checks, but the use of them as currency. The object was to prevent substitution of bank checks for postage stamps when postage stamps were used by law for fractional currency.—New York Times.

Navies of the World.

A report issued by the British navy department on the navies of the world gives Great Britain a tonnage, built and being built, of 1,371,000; France, 801,000; the United States, 770,000; Germany, 633,000; Japan, 415,000; Russia, 320,000; Italy, 281,000; and Austria, 112,000. The navy department excludes all vessels over twenty years old unless they have been repaired and reconstructed since 1900 and also vessels authorized, but not actually having, 52 battleships built and being built of a tonnage of 887,000, the United States with 29 of a tonnage of 406,000, France with 24 of a tonnage of 327,000, Germany with 28 of a tonnage of 351,000 and Japan with 13 of a tonnage of 191,000.

Making an Autocrat.

Orders have been given by the czar that the little czarowitz is to be allowed to have his own way in everything. He is never to be contradicted nor punished because he is to get thoroughly used to the idea that he is an autocrat and therefore born to rule, not to obey. The consequence is that this five-year-old lad, a pretty child, overflowing with health and good spirits, and so far very lovable, makes everybody, from his mother to the sailor who takes care of him, do as and say what he pleases. He rules the nurseries, though one of his sisters is nearly fourteen. The father, it appears, hopes his son may acquire the decision that he himself lacks. Whether the plan will succeed time alone will show.

Some Pumpkins.

The annual display of pumpkins in front of a downtown restaurant is larger than usual this year, and the inscriptions which puzzle the uninitiated because they are part of the mind are unusually clever. In answer to inquiry as to the yellow monsters it was said that the pumpkins came from a farm on the Hudson adjoining that of Alton B. Parker and that they ranged in weight from 100 to 200 pounds. "About two weeks before they are harvested," said a waiter, "the inscriptions are scratched on the rind, and in the ripening process the letters become raised. Are they edible? Well, rather. Every plant is converted into pies, and there are no bad pumpkin pies."—New York Tribune.

IN TEN-MINUTE CONVENTION

Citizens' Municipal League Names Storror For Mayor of Boston

Boston, Nov. 18.—James J. Storror was nominated for mayor of Boston last night by a convention that beat all records for silence and rapidity. At 8:15 Richard Olney called the meeting to order, and at 8:25 he announced that it had adjourned. In ten minutes not only had the nomination of Storror been made, but the records of the previous meeting had been read and approved, and the new party had organized into the "Citizens' Municipal League."

The convention applauded steadily for one minute when Charles S. Hamlin presented the name of Storror as the recommendation of the committee of nine. There was but one man in the hall who said "No" when Chairman Olney put the question. There was one minute more of applause and then adjournment was moved.

CAUGHT IN HURRICANE

Fruit Steamer Had Hard Battle For Nearly Seven Days

Baltimore, Nov. 18.—After battling with wind and seas for nearly seven days, the United Fruit company's steamer Lillie, the first vessel to sail from Jamaica for this port since the great hurricane of last week, reached here with several of her forward ventilators badly damaged and one of her crew laid up with a broken leg as the result of being struck by a huge wave which threw him against the rail.

According to the officers of the ship, the hurricane was one of the worst they experienced in the years they have traded in the tropics, and they said that it will be a long time before the islands recover from the effects of the big storm.

RIGHT GUARANTEED BY ORGANIC LAWS

John Mitchell Goes on Record as Defending the Boycott

Toronto, Nov. 18.—Indorsing a report by the committee on boycott, John Mitchell, one of the three officers of the American Federation of Labor under sentence for contempt of court, made a dramatic speech to the convention of that organization at the close of its session.

He asserted that so far as he was concerned, regardless of consequences, he intended while at liberty to declare for the rights guaranteed him by the organic laws of his country.

The report which caused Mitchell's speech and which was adopted by the convention strongly advocated the boycott in certain cases, saying in conclusion:

"We have a right to boycott and we propose to exercise that right. In the application of this right of boycott, to paraphrase the president (Gompers), we propose to stride on and up."

Mitchell said he realized that every statement made by those on the convention floor, and especially by those who on next Monday will have to deliver themselves to the courts, is being closely scrutinized.

SUED CITY FOR $5000

Jury Disagrees in Case of Girl Who Claimed Feelings Were Injured

Fitchburg, Mass., Nov. 18.—The jury in the case of Margaret P. Jones, who sued the city of Fitchburg for damages in the sum of $5000 on account of her alleged expulsion from school, reported that they had failed to agree and were discharged. The final vote taken was eight for the city and four for the girl.

Judge Dana ruled that the girl could not recover if the jury found that the school board was acting in good faith and for the interests of the girl, and said that only damages to her injured feelings could be assessed, if they found for her.

HILL IS SENTENCED

Not Less Than Seven Years in Prison For Tiverton Murder Case

Taunton, Mass., Nov. 18.—"Professor" Frank L. Hill of Fall River, who pleaded guilty of manslaughter in being concerned in the death of Miss Amelia St. Jean of Woonsocket, in Fall River last month, was sentenced to not less than seven nor more than ten years in state prison, in the superior court.

The body of the girl was cut up by Hill, after her death in his office in Fall River, and distributed in the woods at Tiverton, R. I.

Balloon Travels In Snowstorm

Enfield, N. H., Nov. 18.—A balloon trip of forty miles through a heavy snowstorm encountered at 6000 feet elevation ended at 5:20 o'clock last night, when Pilot Van Sleet got his balloon to earth in this town. The balloon ascended from Rutland, Vt., at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

ABOUT THE WEATHER BUREAU

The weather of Wednesday was an illustration of the fallibility of the United States' weather bureau.

The prediction was for the thin rain storm to arrive from the west on Thursday or Friday. The bureau forecasters appear to have misjudged the speed at which the climatic disturbance would travel.

Last March 3 a blizzard was central over the Lake Michigan region. The weather bureau predicted that it would move eastward along the St. Lawrence river, and give a storm to Canada and New England. Instead it moved southward, and gave Washington the worst inauguration day in many administrations. The weather bureau forecasters had misjudged the direction in which the climatic disturbance would travel.

These instances and many others, serve as reminders of the imperfections of one of the most valuable branches of government. In many regions, where the word can be carried by rural telephone, the farmers plan their harvesting and much of their other labor according to the official weather prediction. It is not perfect, but it is more than twice as dependable as the individual judgment of the keenest man who scans the horizon with a weathered eye and tries to interpret the "signs." Millions upon millions of dollars worth of crops are saved each year by this dependence upon the weather forecasts of the government.

The shipping saved by a single great storm, to say nothing of the seamen's lives, will exceed in value the entire yearly expense of the weather bureau.

It is possible that the weather bureau can be made more useful. May be, if the conditions of wind, temperature and humidity were accurately known from each county in the United States, instead of from one of each ten or twelve counties, the weather bureau men could tell more accurately the near future weather movements. Such a knowledge might reveal conditions of atmosphere which would accelerate or retard the advance of a storm, or might affect the direction in which it would move. Possibly a knowledge of the upper strata of atmosphere as well as the surface stratum would yield the basis for similar understanding.

But, imperfect though it is, the weather bureau is one of the things which we cannot afford to be without, as a nation.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Football That Kills

There has not been a week end since the 1909 football season began which has not been marked by a report of a serious casualty resulting from one of the numerous contests which take place on Saturdays between college football teams. There have been numerous deaths this season from football collisions, and in other instances the victims have been maimed beyond recovery. In the game between the University of Virginia team and the team of Georgetown university on Saturday Arthur Christian of the University of Virginia eleven was so terribly injured that the hospital physicians immediately pronounced his condition to be practically hopeless, and his death followed yesterday morning. This rapid succession of football fatalities cannot be explained away upon the easy theory that they might have happened in rowing, baseball or pretty much any other athletic sport. As a matter of fact, there is no other sport which results in tragic mishaps so frequently as does football. It is absurd to keep up the pretense that this particular pastime, as it is played between American college teams, is not a dangerous affair. And it is now apparent to the most casual observation that the so-called reform of the game which was supposedly brought about a few years back did not in the least result in reforming the brutality out of the sport. The assurance was given out and generally accepted in good faith that under the changed rules football was to be a game of scientific tactics and not a slugging contest.—Baltimore Sun.

The Telegraph-Telephone Trust. The American Telegraph and Telephone company has swallowed the Western Union and a giant Communication Trust is thus formed.

The telephone has been to some extent taking the place of the telegraph. Both can use economically the same poles and conduits and often the same offices. Both have excelled for the service prices not warranted by actual investment.

The business of sending public and private messages by wire, where they can be overlooked, is much more delicately confidential than the carrying of letters. Practically every foreign nation manages the telegraph as a part of its postal system, and in nearly all of them the telephone is or soon will be public property.

The formation of a Communication Trust should interest Federal officials. It should also remove the last vestige of doubt that the legislature of New York will now take action desired by Gov. Hughes and herefore defeated by Speaker Wadsworth and the party bosses and put telegraph and telephone lines under public control.—New York World.

Re-election of President Tuttle

The re-election of Mr. Tuttle puts an end to all the talk that he was about to retire. It cannot be denied that he would have been glad to be relieved of his duties, and had there not been the strongest opposition to his retirement, he would willingly have relinquished the presidency in favor of any one who might be named by the dominating interests in the property.—The New Haven Post.

Mr. Tuttle can be of incalculable assistance to the New Haven people in carrying out their policies and his value is recognized. He knows the road as no other man knows it. He is familiar with the thousand and one details incident to its operation, and his popularity with the shipping public as well as his diplomacy in dealing with legislative matters are assets not to be ignored.

Dr. Cook's Evidence About Ready

Dr. Cook announces that his records will leave New York on Thanksgiving day in charge of his agent, and it is expected that the expert commission appointed to examine them by the University of Copenhagen will require only a short time to reach a decision regarding their authenticity. Dr. Cook's critics have an idea that the length of time he has consumed in preparing these papers is suspicious; even so, if he has been devoting himself, since the abandonment of his lecture tour, to "faking" evidence of his alleged solar trip, the keen eyes of the Danish scholars are pretty sure to detect the fraud. At least, we must give the Brooklyn explorer credit for sticking to his original story. If it is a fragment of the imagination, he has nevertheless persisted in it as doggedly as if it were the truth.—Providence Journal.

WANTED IN NOVA SCOTIA

Dover Man Arrested in Portsmouth on Embezzlement Charge

On Wednesday night, a couple of detectives made an important arrest at the depot. The officers were noticed about the station before the evening Pullman and, as soon as the train came to a stop, they got busy.

They soon had in custody Malcolm C. McLennan, a special agent of the Metropolitan Insurance Company at Dover, who is wanted in Halifax, N. S., on a charge of embezzlement of $2000 of the funds of the Excelsior Life Insurance Company.

Camera to Catch

Speeding
Automobilists.

THE most up to date method of timing and convicting automobile speeders is by means of an ingenious camera adopted by the Boston police. The camera, invented by a Boston physician, takes two pictures of the speeding automobile, one picture approximately a second after the first.

From a simple law of physics governing the relation between the size of image and object to the distance of image and object from the lens, the distance of the automobile from the camera at each exposure is readily calculated. In the computation, the wheel tread of the machine, usually the 56 in. standard, is regarded as the true size of the object, and the size of the image is measured directly from the photograph by means of a steel scale divided into hundredths of an inch. The distance of the image from the lens is the same as that of the plate from the opening.

The pointer of a chronometer is shown, at each exposure on a dial, and indicates the time between exposures to one-thirtieth of a second. The mechanism is situated directly in front of the plate holder. Having found the distance and the time, the velocity is determined, it being readily figured out to within a fraction of a mile per hour.

All the officer with the camera has to do is to step either behind or in front of the speeding auto, point the camera and press a lever. All other operations are accomplished mechanically, the camera not only indicating the speed of the automobile, but showing its number, and its occupants as well.

The lumber schooner Marion Draper, in attempting to shift her anchorage in the harbor Wednesday, ran across the bow of the British schooner Arizona and had her davits and yawl boat damaged. The Englishman's headgear received rough usage. The Draper went ashore off Fort McClary during a southeaster April 10, 1906 became waterlogged and capsized, but, held up by her cargo of ice, was towed on the flats in her beam ends.

Tug M. Mitchell Davis is scheduled to go to Bladford Pool today to tow the waterlogged British schooner Valetta to Cape Poge, where her cargo of lumber will be discharged. The Valetta went ashore in Dansbury reef, off Wood Island, last week, and after being abandoned floated herself and was brought into port by two local fishermen, who held her for salvage. It is thought that she will be condemned. This case had a parallel here some years ago, when the schooner Pavillon struck York Ledge and then freed herself after the crew left her. She was brought into this harbor by John P. Brooks and J. Chester Cutts, who were taking a load of cord wood to Boon Island in the latter's scow.

The Halifax schooner Neva, an arrival Wednesday, is a regular West India trader, and rarely makes coasting voyages. Few American vessels of the Neva's size, 167 tons, are now left in deep water trade.

MANTIR AND DELOREY ARE FOUND GUILTY

Jury Returned a Verdict in Lesser Degree for the Murder of Annie Mullins.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 18.—The jury dence of both government and de in the Annie Mullins case Wednesday afternoon returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree against James Mantir and of manslaughter against Peter C. Delorey. The jury before whom James Mantir and Peter C. Delorey have been on trial for their lives in the East Cambridge superior court, charged with the murder of Annie Mullins, retired to deliberate at 11:37 a. m., after a two-hour charge by Judge White. In closing his address to the jury, after he had outlined the evi-

HANSON MAKES SHORT WORK OF CHARLESWORTH

Fritz Hanson made short work of Ben Charlesworth of the U. S. S. Georgia, who held the middleweight wrestling championship of the navy, at Music Hall, on Thursday evening. Hanson, who has wrestled all over this country and abroad, was by far the cleverer man, and while he was cautious during the first few minutes on the mat, he soon found his man, and getting a scissors hold he threw him in just four and one half minutes. The preliminaries really gave the in the second try Charlesworth at-

Fred Greuter and H. W. Jock of Montreal, but Greuter failed to show up and in his place Collin of the cruiser Birmingham was substituted. He had considerable weight on Jock, in fact that resulted in his winning, for while the younger man was the cleverer and faster wrestler he had not the strength, and Collin wore him down and got a fall with a half-Nelson in ten minutes. The second fall was gained in the same way after seven minutes of fast work.

The bouts were refereed by Dick Fleming, one of the best that has ever worked in this city. He showed a thorough knowledge of the game and was on the job every minute. Mr. Fleming, by the way, is one of the best known referees in New England and regularly referees all of the big boxing bouts at the Armory A. A. of Boston, and the Apollo of Salem.

Following the bout, a stranger walked into Hanson's dressing room and challenged him to a match, and it was quickly arranged and a substantial side bet hung up and the bout will be pulled off this forenoon at a place to be decided on in the morning. The stranger appeared confident of his ability and placed his forfeit to appear with Manager Sherman T. Newton of the Kearsarge hotel.

Before the wrestling bouts, four reels of moving pictures were shown with illustrated songs.

FORT MCKINLEY 23, NEW HAMPSHIRE 0.

Soldiers Defeated the Sailors in Portland.

The football team of the battleship New Hampshire went to Portland on Wednesday, where they met the strong Fort McKinley team. The soldiers had the better of the game and in the first half scored at will, running up 23 points. The sailors took a big brace in the second half and while they prevented any more scoring they failed to score themselves.

The Portland Press says: "Keenan, Melanson and Wagner played good football for the New Hampshire team while Clyde, True, Tyler, Floyd and Slater excelled for McKinley. True was the bright star of the game and his work at the end was always brilliant. Tyler made several long runs while Slater proved a wizard at running back punts. The sailors took a brace in the second half but they could not score and during the last few minutes of the play the soldiers carried the ball down the field and wore on their opponents 20-yard line when time was called."

$100,000 FIRE AT LOWELL

Lowell Mass., Nov. 18.—Fire, to subdue which all the city's fire department was called by a "general alarm, and which it is believed to have been of incendiary origin, resulted in two firemen being overcome by smoke and did $100,000 damage here early today.

The fire started in the boiler room of the Davis & Sargent Lumber Company's mill in Middlesex street. The mill and lumber yard was swept by the flames. In the mill building were the establishments of the Economy Rug Company, Upton & Gilman, machinists, Marshall & Crosby, cabinet makers, Arthur Knapp, iron works and Frank Carter, carpet needles. These were all destroyed.

It is believed to have been incendiary.

High School Claims Football Championship

Anniversary Exercises Held by the Rebekah Lodge

Exeter, Nov. 18.—The Exeter high school eleven, which last Saturday afternoon defeated Andover high, lays claim to the championship of southern New Hampshire, and is prepared to meet any city high school team in this section of the state. Dover, Rochester, Somersworth and Portsmouth are eleven which the boys boys are very desirous of meeting, and arrangements for games this season can be made by communicating with George Tuttle, manager.

The track team candidates at the academy were called together Wednesday afternoon, and plans for the coming season which opens at the beginning of the winter term were laid out. The candidates were talked to by Trainer George S. Connors and Capt. Thomas H. Cornell. It seems like a prosperous season from the fact that there are so many star sprinters in school. The first work will not be begun till some time in January when preparations will be begun for the Boston Athletic association meet.

The Exeter hospital training school on Wednesday afternoon graduated its first class of nurses, the exercises being held in Unity hall before a large audience, and an extremely interesting program was carried out. The class contained five, all most efficient nurses. The hall was tastefully decorated with evergreen, and the sters E. T. S. woven with flowers over the stage. The ushers were George Tuttle, Almon Sleeper, James A. Tutts, Jr., and George M. Fuller. The address was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Thomas Sims of Melrose, Mass., who spoke interestingly on hospital work and training. Music was rendered by a quartet composed of Clarence M. Collins, Everett P. Weeks, Frank H. Lawson and J. Gilbert Haley. Prayer was offered by Rev. George H. Driver and the academy Mandolin club also rendered selections. The diplomas were conferred by Gen. Albert N. Dow, president of the board of trustees, and the address bestowed by Mrs. B. L. Cilley. The benediction was by Rev. Dr. S. H. Dana of the Phillips church. The graduates were Misses Annie T. Brown and Clyde A. Lindsay of Carroll, Me., Vera M. Bogle of Eastport, Me., Nellie Doherty of Laconia and Margaret P. Henderson of Toronto. If this class Miss Bogle returns to become assistant superintendent of the Cottage hospital.

The Sons of Veterans auxiliary will have its annual inspection tonight. The inspection is to be by Mrs. Sadie M. Walters, state inspection officer of Nashua, assisted by the state secretary, Mrs. Ada J. Cummings, also of Nashua. A social period will follow the work.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bradley of Boston were visitors in town on Wednesday, making their headquarters at the Squamscot. Mr. Bradley is the principal of the farm school at Thompson's Island, Boston which position was formerly held by Perry French the veteran school teacher of his town, who had the pleasure of creating the present principal at his home on High street. Mr. French has always retained a deep interest in the school, although it was in 1861 when he first began duties there.

Fraternity lodge of Rebekahs observed its eighteenth anniversary on Wednesday evening with appropriate exercises. It was also called "old members' night" and a pleasing program was arranged.

The Woman's Christian Temperance union met with Miss Elizabeth Rundlett on Grove street Wednesday afternoon. An interesting meeting resulted, and it was well attended.

The funeral of George W. Elliott was held on Wednesday afternoon at his home on Hall place, conducted by Rev. J. E. Leary, pastor of the Aulvent church, and today the remains were taken to Marlow for burial. Mr. Hall was aged seventy-six years, four months and ten days. He was born in Mason, July 6 1833 and for many years resided in Keene, where he followed the vocation of a carpenter. He came to this town about three years ago. His wife survives him.

I'd Like to See the Liver of a Fat Man

This is the expression of a medical man who said that the liver of a fat man must present a wonderful sight when that man is alive and performing his regular duties. The liver is the largest organ in the human body. The stomach calls on the liver and so does the blood. If the liver gives to the digestive apparatus improper juices then the digestion is wrong. This is what makes people fat. The liver is not right. On popular demand we have made the famous Marmola Prescription into Tablets which are eaten after meals just like food and they digest that food as it should be digested. They remove fat already accumulated at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces per day and leave no wrinkles or flabby skin. Carry one in your vest pocket or purse when you dine out and eat what you will. Fasting, diet and exercise will not reduce fat. You only starve the body and by tearing down other organs you bring the fat with the rest of the destruction. Marmola Tablets are sold by all druggists and in greater quantity than all the other so-called fat reducers combined. There must be merit in them or their sale could not be growing larger every month. Ask any druggist or if you prefer, send 75 cts to The Marmola Company, Dept. 978, Detroit, Mich., and they will send you a large case of Marmola Tablets in plain package by mail.

Who should look into the remedying of this nuisance and menace to the public health? With the would appear to be up to some one increase in contagious diseases it to abate it.

C. H.
Open the City Gates
Editor the Herald:

If the street commissioner wants to make a reputation let him give orders to have at least six inches of the mud removed from the crosswalks approaching the passenger station. If the city is too poor to take care of this, let it plan to open the gates to the city so that visitors can get in without being obliged to swim.

JOHN KNOX.

AT NAVY YARD

Swift Report Is to Come Dec. 1

The Removing of the Maine's Guns

The Yard Hospital is Over Crowded

Not Until Dec. 1

New regulations for the navy will be issued by Secretary Meyer on Dec. 1, and will give the first authoritative information showing the extent to which the plan of former Secretary Newberry for a general consolidation of work under the department will be perpetuated. The consolidation plan has been tested to some extent and the forthcoming regulations will indicate how its operation has impressed the secretary. One of the most interesting questions in this connection relates to the retention or the abolition of the bureau of equipment, which will be provided for in the regulations.

Fireman Called

One fireman was the only call issued today by the labor board.

Wants Another Big One

Secretary Meyer has declared that a Congress would be asked for two 26,000-ton battleships, not because it was all that he could recommend under the program of a $10,000,000 reduction in departmental estimates. The department will also ask for a repair ship, or, if Congress does not grant that request, its equivalent in value in torpedo boat destroyers.

Full at the Hospital

Since the arrival of the ships at the navy yard the station hospital force have been exceedingly busy. To handle all the patients ordered there for treatment it will be necessary to have some of the sick sent to the hospital at Chelsea.

Escorted Back to Ship

Police Officer Kelley brought two stragglers back to the New Hampshire today.

To Work on Her Guns

While the U. S. S. New Hampshire is in the dry dock the U. S. S. Maine will be moved to the shears dock where the work of removing her guns will be commenced.

Getting Ready for Work

The engineering force are engaged today in staking out the location for the new building for storage of oil.

MRS. SARAH J. SHEAFE

Mrs. Sarah J. Sheafe died this morning at the home of her son, No. 19 Hill street, aged eighty-six years, seven months and eighteen days. She leaves two sons Eugene Sheafe of Portsmouth and William Sheafe of Dover.

WILLEY LAND SOLD

Auctioneer J. Perley Putnam, for the executors of the will of William A. Willey, Messrs. Joseph Langton of Kittery and Samuel W. Jenkins of York, this morning sold the land on the easterly end of Badger's Island.

Parts of three lots went to John Tilton for $120. A man named Johnson got one-fourth of Lot No. 4 for $185. F. M. McAndrews got half of No. 5 for $260, and parts of two others for $165 and $185.

WATER MUST BE PLENTY

Enough at Mascoma to Wash Away The Bobbin Mill Dam

Mascoma, Nov. 18.—The dam at the bobbin mill gave way and was completely washed out on Wednesday.

The cause of the break was having flash boards put on top to hold back more water, which caused too much pressure for the strength of the dam. It was built forty years ago by Nat Maston to furnish power for the old slate mill.

DIED AT LODGING HOUSE

Rockport, Mass., Young Man Who Was at Work Here

John A. Broomfield, of Rockport, Mass., died suddenly on Wednesday night at the lodging house upstairs over the Clam Shell restaurant on Vaughan street. He was aged 39 years and was working for W. B. Paul.

POLICE COURT

John Kimler and Herman Woodman, arrested on Wednesday while doing scout duty for scout in the railroad yard, were the only offenders in court today. They were released on a promise to keep away from Portsmouth in the future.

PART OF CREW RESIGNED

As a result of some friction at the Hampton Beach Life Saving Station three members of the crew are reported as resigning their positions.

Who gets the coal and flour, to be given away at the Eagles' ball, Dec. 3?

LECTURE

BY RABBI

FLEISCHER

Grafton Club Opens Work of the Season

The Grafton club season opened most auspiciously on Wednesday afternoon with a lecture by Rabbi Fleischer of Boston. In spite of the unfavorable weather, the Young Men's Christian Association hall was well filled when the speaker was introduced by Mrs. Charles Brewster, president of the club. The subject of the lecture was "Facts and Fictions About the Jews." The audience listened to the speaker with the closest interest and attention because of his easy, flowing style, perfect use of the English language, correct and careful enunciation as well as because the substance of his talk was instructive and inspiring. After a most happy introduction he mentioned the following actions which are commonly accredited to the Jews.

The notion is held that all Jews are co-religionists but this is not so. There is as wide a divergence in opinion, feeling and faith among the Jews as among Christians. Jews vary widely in the formulation of their faith. Again, the Jews are not a nation. They ceased to exist as a nation 1839 years ago when the temple was destroyed and they lost their independence in their own land. Thirdly, reference is often made to the Jews as a race. That is not a proper term to apply to them. Perhaps they are members of the Semitic branch, if there is such a thing.

How shall the Jews be spoken of then? As human beings, the survivors of a one-time people who happened to have a common religion and who believed that all government came from God. This is a wide definition. There are all kinds, sorts and conditions of Jews; not all are business men. There are dreamers and spiritual minded men among the Jews and all other types. They should be accepted as normal fellow beings.

Certain facts about the Jews must be emphasized to show that they have been a source of great blessing to the world. The western world has received the following gifts from the Jews. The idea of God, of Christ, the Bible, ethics, the dream of the millennium, of universal brotherhood, and the Sabbath.

These facts show that the Jews are a sub-division of the human race endowed with a peculiar power as were the Romans and Greeks. They awakened to the possibilities of that power and concentrated themselves to develop it. Thus the Jews have become seers, prophets and teachers. Wherever one meets a Jew showing this power, let him remember that such a Jew is the true type, of his class.

The speaker characterized Zionism as the result of a pessimistic view of the condition of the Jewish race and suggested a much better remedy for overcoming the persecution of the Jews. His answer to Zionism was love, justice, brotherhood. He concluded with a powerful plea for a better understanding of the Jew, for more respect, kindness, and love shown to the Jews and all other groups of the human family, not close to our own group.

Our Idea in Advertising

Is not so much to sell a Suit or Overcoat as it is to get a customer. There is a big difference between selling a man a suit and getting him for a regular customer.

But our object is to sell a man such a good suit the first time that he comes back for another one next season, and keeps coming back until he gets the habit of coming,—a habit that he finds too good to break.

There are many things about our Suits and Overcoats that we could tell you, but long years of experience tells us, that a satisfied customer is one of the best advertisements a Tailor can have.

Let us make you a Suit or Overcoat this season.
